How did the Fund perform last year? What affected the Fund's performance?

FUND AND MARKET PERFORMANCE

For the fiscal year ended April 30, 2026, the Steward Select Bond Fund (Institutional Class) (the “Fund”) returned 3.93%, outperforming the Bloomberg U.S. Government/Credit Bond Index (the “Benchmark”) return of 3.55%.

POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE CONTRIBUTORS TO PERFORMANCE

There were numerous shocks to the economy during the period, including the differing variations of tariff policy, the surge of AI and the large capex associated with the technology, and the energy shock related to geopolitical events in the Middle East. We shouldn't be surprised that US 10-year yields vacillated, beginning the 12-month period at 4.16% on 4/30/25, hitting a high of the period on 5/21/25 at 4.60%, dropping to a low of 3.94% on 2/27/26, and ending the period on 4/30/26 at a level not too far from where we started at 4.37%. Although the Fund maintained a shorter duration than its Benchmark, we did move duration much closer to neutral to help reduce interest rate volatility as we expected the Fed to begin cutting rates towards the end of 2025. We also increased the US Treasury allocation to take advantage of opportunities in the sector and better align with the Benchmark. The largest positive contributors to the Fund's outperformance relative to the Benchmark were duration, security selection, allocation decisions, and the carry effect as the yield curve steepened. The spread effect was the largest drag on performance relative to the Benchmark as there were brief spans of spread widening and our overweight to the corporate sector, although a positive for the income component of total return, intensified that effect.

Fund Performance

The performance graph below shows the performance of a hypothetical $100,000 initial investment in the Fund's Institutional Class over a ten-year period (or for the life of the Fund or share class, if shorter). The subsequent account value as of the end of the reporting period is listed next to the name of the Fund or index, as applicable. The performance table below shows the average annual total returns of the Fund's Institutional Class for the past one-, five- and ten-year periods, as applicable (or for the life of the Fund or share class, if shorter), as of the end of the reporting period. Both the graph and table compare the performance of the Fund's Institutional Class to an appropriate broad-based index and may compare to additional indices reflecting the market segment(s) in which the Fund invests, over the same periods.
