How did the Fund perform last year? What affected the Fund's performance?

FUND AND MARKET PERFORMANCE

For the fiscal year ended April 30, 2026, the Steward Large Cap Core Fund (Institutional Class) (the “Fund”) returned 26.44%, underperforming the Russell 1000 Index (the “Benchmark”) return of 30.42%.

POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE CONTRIBUTORS TO PERFORMANCE

The Fund's underperformance relative to the Benchmark was primarily attributed to negative stock selection with adverse sector allocation further reducing the returns. The information technology sector detracted significantly with a total effect of -4.53%, largely driven by the semiconductors and semiconductor equipment companies which contributed -3.09% to the negative results. Conversely, communication services contributed positively with a total effect of 1.18%, supported by the Telecommunication Services Industry Group. On an individual stock basis, the largest detractors from performance were H&R Block, Inc. and Adobe Inc. and the underweight to Tesla, Inc. The largest positive contributors to performance were Millicom International Cellular SA and TechnipFMC plc.

Fund Performance

The performance graph below shows the performance of a hypothetical $100,000 initial investment in the Fund's Institutional Class over a ten-year period (or for the life of the Fund or share class, if shorter). The subsequent account value as of the end of the reporting period is listed next to the name of the Fund or index, as applicable. The performance table below shows the average annual total returns of the Fund's Institutional Class for the past one-, five- and ten-year periods, as applicable (or for the life of the Fund or share class, if shorter), as of the end of the reporting period. Both the graph and table compare the performance of the Fund's Institutional Class to an appropriate broad-based index and may compare to additional indices reflecting the market segment(s) in which the Fund invests, over the same periods.
