Markets and performance

Performance for the global equity markets overall returned mixed results for the period. The Global Equity Income Composite benchmark, the MSCI World Index, ended the quarter with a return of 2.78%. Dividend stocks overall underperformed the general equity market. For global dividend index comparison purposes, the MSCI World High Dividend Yield Index returned -1.49% during the period. The Global Equity Income Composite return was -1.55%.

Positive and negative contributors to performance

The leading positive contributors to performance included Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Co., Broadcom Inc., and Analog Devices Inc. These three stocks rose 28.07%, 21.53%, and 15.87%, respectively, during the second quarter. CVS Health, Gap, Inc., and Toyota Motor Corp. were the leading negative contributors, declining 25.25%, 12.72%, and 18.56%, respectively. Relative to the MSCI World Index, the composite's primary benchmark, performance was negatively impacted by NVIDIA, Apple, and Alphabet Inc., which rose 36.74%, 22.99%, and 20.82%, respectively. These stocks were excluded from the composite because their dividend yields failed to meet longstanding minimum criteria for the strategy. Information technology and financials were the leading positive sector contributors to performance. Consumer discretionary and healthcare were the leading negative sector contributors. International exposure in the composite, especially the United Kingdom and Taiwan, outperformed relative to the U.S.

Looking ahead

The U.S. and Europe are experiencing moderate economic growth while China's economic reopening and stimulus measures could boost regional growth in Asia. Despite inflation decelerating in many parts of the world, it remains above central bank targets. While the pace of interest rate hikes may slow, investors should expect relatively high interest rates. This impacts dividend stocks, particularly those with higher yields. Geopolitical conflicts and trade disputes could disrupt markets, affecting global supply chains and economic stability. Companies with the ability to pass on costs to consumers should outperform. Our investment strategy will remain grounded in companies with strong, resilient balance sheets that support rising dividends, favorable earnings growth, and robust free cash flow.

Crossmark uses a model account to manage the individual client accounts that have selected this investment strategy. The portfolio characteristics shown are based on the model account. The characteristics of any individual account may differ from those of the model account. All performance information shown is composite performance derived from the aggregate of all accounts included in the composite.

Composite performance (%)	Quarter	YTD	1-year	3-year	5-year	10-year
Global Equity Income (Wrap) – Gross	-1.55	6.07	16.02	5.60	10.40	9.63

MSCI World Index	2.78	12.04	20.75	7.38	12.32	9.73
MSCI World High Dividend Yield Index	-1.49	3.95	9.32	4.24	6.26	5.38

1 Net performance was calculated using the hypothetical highest annual all-inclusive wrap fee of 3.00% by deducting 0.75% from the last month of each quarter. Gross performance is shown as supplemental information and is stated as pure gross of all fees as the returns have not been reduced by transaction costs. Wrap fees include Crossmark's portfolio management fee as well as all charges for trading costs, custody, and other administrative fees. Due to the effect of compounding, annual returns shown net of fees may be lower than the return that would be shown if the fee were deducted from the gross return at a single point in time.

All investments are subject to risks, including the possible loss of principal. Past performance does not guarantee future results. The Global Equity Income strategy may not achieve its objective if the managers' expectations regarding particular securities or markets are not met. Equity investments generally involve two principal risks—market risk and selection risk. The value of equity securities will rise and fall in response to general market and/or economic conditions (equity market risk). The value of any individual equity security will rise and fall in response to the market's perception of the issuer's revenues, earnings, balance sheet, credit worthiness, business plan, and overall perception of the viability of the issuer's business (selection risk).

Investments in securities of issuers in foreign countries involves additional risks not associated with domestic investments. These risks include, but are not limited to: (1) political and financial instability; (2) currency exchange rate fluctuations; (3) greater price volatility and less liquidity in particular securities and in certain foreign markets; (4) lack of uniform accounting, auditing, and financial reporting standards; (5) less government regulation and supervision of some foreign stock exchanges, brokers and listed companies; (6) delays in transaction settlement in certain foreign markets; (7) less availability of information; and (8) imposition of foreign withholding or other taxes.
