Crossmark Large Cap Core Growth Equity Wrap Composite contains fully discretionary wrap core equity large cap growth accounts. Large Cap Core Growth Equity portfolios are invested in growth stocks of large companies most of which pay dividends. The composite excludes portfolios for which the clients have imposed restrictions or requirements that impede the manager from fully executing their strategy such that the results will not be representative of the strategy. For comparison purposes the composite is measured against the Russell 1000 Growth Index. The Russell 1000 Growth Index measures the performance of the large cap growth segment of the U.S. equity universe. We also show the S&P 500 as an additional comparison. The S&P 500 Index is large capitalization weighted index of 500 U.S. companies generally considered to be representative of stock market activity.

The U.S. Dollar is the currency used to express performance. The performance reflects the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings to the extent that client accounts included in the composite elected to reinvest dividends and earnings. Performance figures shown gross of fees do not reflect the payment of investment advisory fees.

Past performance is not an indicator of future results. Investments made using this strategy involve risk of loss, including the potential loss of principal. The principal risks associated with the Large Cap Core Growth investment strategy include periodic stock market declines and declines in individual holdings.
